ANNOUNCEMENTS

Soldier Minstrel Show Coming. In the near future, the boys from the Headquarters' Company of the 301st Machine Gun Battalion are to offer a minstrel show of unusual va-riety in this city and full of the old time ginger and snap that bids to even outclass Lew Dockstader's Fun

Makers.
Lieutenant Aldrich will act as interlocutor, introducing the comedy and singers. Taxy Taylor and Sergeam Driscoll will be on hand in their ac-customed places on the end, handling customed places on the end, handling the bones and a number of other classy artists will also be in the spot light. It is well to add that in the order of songs, Privates Lyons and O'Brien will sing solos, which are real treats. The famous Browning Gun Quartette will furnish a harmony of new songs and a few of the never-to-be-forgotten ones. Sergt. Hartland will offer in his inimitable way a few of his own and original songs adapted of his own and original songs, adapted cospecially for the minstrels, while Corporal Oison will render some of the sentimental ballads which go to make the minstrel a real show. The irresistable Jack Saunders, the Al Joison of Camp Devens and Southpaw Squiz Pillon will also endeavor to make the time a very pleasant one for all. There will be dancing after the performance.

AUDITORIUM

A Day at the Circus is the Title of the New Bill Presented Yesterday Today-If You Want a Good Laugh See It-George Walsh in Jack Spurlock-Prodigal, a Great

The Liberty Belles presented another new comedy last evening entitled A Day at the Circus, and it certainly proved a great novelty. The big special scenic setting representing the outside around the big circus tentand main entrance to the big show, introducing all the circus freaks and exhibition acts. During the action the opendius set over some year, funny comedians get over some very funny comedy hits. The singing of Lottie Gibbson, the prima donna, is deserving of special mention. The lady has a beautiful voice and uses it with good expression, her two numbers receiving encores. The chorus wear pretty costumes and work with lots of ginger, all the numbers going over with a bang.

New Show Today. Three Big Features Wm. S. Hart In "The Primal Lure" Dorothy Dalton In Love Me" and Democracy.

At the Davis theatre beginning to-day the feature will be the five-part Paramount photoplay, "Love Me," starring winsome Dorothy Dalton. That "Love Me" was written by C. Gardner Sullivan and directed by Thomas H. Ince, himself, speaks loudly for its success, and the excel-lent cast including William Capities loudy for its success, and the excel-lent cast, including William Conklin, Jack Holt, Dorcas Mathews, Mel-bourne MacDowell Elinor Hancock and Robert McKim, adds the last word. The story is a society drama with a new and interesting point of ciew of an unconventional Western girl who earns the love and respect of her hus-band's exclusive and wealthy family band's exclusive and wealthy family. Another feature on the bill is Benjamin Chapin in The Son of Democracy, this second episode is entitled "A Call to Arms." A striking parallel between President Wilson's present problems and those that confronted Abraham Lincoln is shown in this chapter which teems with "inside-the-White-House" atmosphere. To complete the show Wm. S Hart will be seen in "The Primal Lure," a five-part drama of the pioneer petilers in "The Canadian Northwest."

INTOLERANCE

D. W. Griffith's Colossal Spectacle Coming to the Davis Next Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday. Seat Sale Opens Today.

Rome was not built in a day-neith-er was the ancient city of Babylon recreated in a day, but sixteen months recreated in a day, but sixteen months of physical labor and the efforts of a small army of skilled workmen were required in Belshazzar's banquet hall seene as shown in D. W. Griffith's aweinspiring spectacle, "Intolerance," which comes to the Davis next week, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

"Many, many months of brain-rack-ing, yet soul-inspiring mental labor. ing, yet soul-inspiring mental labor was necessary before the artisans could begin the re-construction of that beautiful city of Babylon, beloved and cherishal by Belshazzar and his Princess Belsond

Lying behind this magnificent setting for scenes of love, of great hapi-ness, of tragedies and blood red battles, are countless hours of research and study. Mr. Griffith's staff of re-search workers were engaged constantly to provide actual data so that the production of Babylon and its people might be given to the world authentically. Many authorities were con-sulted, tablets unearthed and in the possession of the British museum were examined and deciphered so that even to the minutest detail Babylon should

In addition to the settings, all cosand the accessories used in connection with the ancinet scenes were repro-juced from photographs and drawings made from coociform tablets, the sylinders unearthed by scientists. The saily modes of living, the food which they are and the customs of this ancient people were studied and relived for "Intolerance."

Students of the Bible and ancient student history have not been miserly in their praise of Mr. Griffith's masterly direction and each audience has its quot of students and historians to see in "Intolerance" the people whom they have long studied, but never before have been able to view at close hand.

BREED THEATRE

Violet Mersereau in The Girl By the Roadside.

Today the Breed theatre will present a double feature bill consisting of Harold Lockwood in The Landloper and Violet Mersereau in The Girl by the Roadside. The Landloper is a screen story adapted from Holman Day's novel of the same name and in it Mr. Lockwood has a most congenial role as the hero of the production. In this colorful romance he is seen as a knight of the highway and is supported by a cast that contains many familiar names. Pauline Curley is seen in the leading feminine role and other members of the cast are William Chifford, Stanton Heck, Bert Starkey and Gertrude Maloney.

The Girl by the Roadside is a screen version of the novel by Varick Vanardy and contains a series of events that are really thrilling. The famous Burton Holmes travel series completes this bill for today and touight.
